Hawking's nurse gets struck off

THE former nurse of Professor Stephen Hawking has been struck off the nursing register after a panel found she did not give appropriate care to the renowned physicist.

The Nursing and Midwifery Council said yesterday that Patricia Dowdy "failed to provide the standards of good, professional care that we expect and Professor Hawking deserved".

The 61-year-old, who was with Prof Hawking (above) between 1999 and 2004 and employed again from July 2013, had been handed an interim suspension back in March 2016.

She faced multiple misconduct charges in relation to the care she provided to the boffin, who died in March last year at the age of 76.

The family of Prof Hawking lodged a complaint which had initially prompted the investigation into Mrs Dowdy.

Ben Nevis: Two dead

TWO climbers have died and two injured in an avalanche on Ben Nevis, police last night said.

Inverness Coastguard helicopter, an air ambulance, three road ambulances and a trauma team were sent to the scene.

Lochaber Mountain Rescue Team was supported by members of Glencoe Mountain Rescue Team in the rescue effort.

The alarm was raised to the incident in Number 5 Gully at 11.50am.

Yesterday, the Scottish Avalanche Information Service assessed the potential avalanche risk in Lochaber, where Ben Nevis is located, as "high".

THE IRA ARE BACK!

RETURN: The old face of terror (above) and bomb disposal unit in Glasgow last week

Horror as terror group claims to be responsible for bombs

DESTROYED: Manchester

OFFICERS investigating devices sent to addresses in London and Glasgow have confirmed a claim of responsibility has been made in the name of the "IRA".

The Met and Police Scotland said similar packages were sent in the past by dissident Northern Ireland groups.

Police also revealed that one package may be unaccounted for.

The devices arrived on March 5 and 6 at Waterloo Station, buildings near Heathrow Airport, London City Airport and the University of Glasgow.

A joint statement from Police Scotland and the Metropolitan Police yesterday said the claim of "IRA" responsibility was received on Monday by the Belfast-based Irish News, and that a recognised codeword was used.

It added: "Given the packages received last week bore similarities to devices sent in the past which were linked to dissident groups associated with Northern Ireland-related terrorism, officers were already looking at this as a line of inquiry.

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

"However, we continue to keep an open mind and enquiries continue.

"We are also aware that those claiming responsibility have indicated five devices were sent. At this time, only four have been recovered.

Vigilant

"Extensive advice has already been issued to relevant businesses and sectors to be vigilant for and report suspicious packages to police.

"This advice was previously sent to armed forces personnel and is being reiterated again in light of this claim.

"We continue to urge the public to remain vigilant and report anything suspicious to police."

The parcel bomb incidents come almost a year after MI5 downgraded the threat posed in Britain by Irish Republicans.

It is currently classified as "moderate", meaning attacks are possible, but not likely.

In Northern Ireland, the risk is greater, exemplified by a car bomb detonating in Londonderry in January.

All the attacks were claimed by an organisation calling itself the IRA.

It's often referred to as "the new IRA", to distinguish it from the Provisional IRA.

The Provos were active in Northern Ireland and on the mainland – detonating, for example, a huge bomb in Manchester city centre in 1996 – during the Troubles.

British hiker's tragic accident on mountain

A BRITISH woman who went missing in Guatemala died in "a tragic accident", a charity has said.

Catherine Shaw, 23 (above), from Witney, Oxon, was reported missing after she left a hotel near Lake Atitlan on March 5.

Her body was found by a search team about 60ft from the top of the Indian Nose hiking trail on Monday.

The Lucie Blackman Trust, which has been helping Ms Shaw's family, said "foul play was probably not involved".

Trust chief executive Matthew Searle said speculation that she was raped and murdered was "incredibly unhelpful, distressing and unnecessary".

He said Ms Shaw had been fasting and she may have passed out or fallen "due to her lack of intake of food and fluid".

He added: "She was very much a nature lover and adored sunrises, so it seems quite conceivable that she went up the mountain to greet the sunrise, shedding clothing as she went."

UK Boeing 737 are grounded

THE UK's Civil Aviation Authority has banned the Boeing 737 MAX from operating in or over UK airspace "as a precautionary measure".

The decision comes after an Ethiopian Airlines plane crashed on Sunday, killing 157 people on board.

It was the second fatal accident involving the 737 Max 8 model in less than five months.

Countries including China, France and Germany have also grounded the jets.

But US officials say the aircraft are still safe to fly.

The CAA said the directive would remain in place until further notice.

YANKS 'WOULD LOSE WW3'

THE US will not stand a chance against Russia and China should World War III break out, advanced warfare analysts have warned.

Nonprofit global policy think tank RAND has been performing simulated war scenarios – often sponsored by the Pentagon – to test how American forces would fare against the world's other leading military superpowers.

Last week, RAND analysts revealed the US has suffered severe losses in these scenarios, despite spending ONE TRILLION dollars annually on the military, twice exceeding the spending of any other country.

"In our games, when we fight Russia and China, 'blue' gets its ass handed to it," researcher David Ochmanek explained at the Center for a New American Security.

US forces are usually colour-coded blue in the simulations.

Though hypothetical, the games warn the world order America has fought to protect for more than a century could be at risk.

The simulated conflicts take place in all five domains of battle – land, sea, air, space and cyberspace.

Accord to RAND, 'red' aggressor forces frequently burn US military bases to the ground, sink warships and take out cyber systems.

Robert Work, a former deputy secretary of defence and experienced war-gamer, explained that America's F-35 fighter (left) jet is the most advanced of its kind in the sky, but is vulnerable on the tarmac.

He said: "It gets killed on the ground in large numbers."

Work and Ochmanek both said China focus on cyberspace with 'system destruction warfare', which targets American communications satellites, command-and-control systems, and wireless networks.

Telly chiefs to make celebrity micropub reality show

By REX ROWLANDS
rex@sundaysport.co.uk

TELLY bosses are to combine two of modern life's biggest obsessions – reality TV and booze – for what they reckon will be a ratings winner.

The new show will train two teams of celebs how to brew craft beer – and then pit them against each other flogging their ale in competing pop-up boozers.

Comic

The new show, provisionally called Celebrity BrewPub, is hush-hush at the moment but it's believed producers want ale fan James May to host it.

A source close to the production crew said: "They've drawn up a wish list of possible contestants."

"They'd love Michelle Keegan for her bar experience off Coronation Street and Megan Barton-Hanson for her big tits."

"And for a bit of a comic turn, they'd like Arg from TOWIE. He'd probably do something funny like fall in the tun of beer as it was brewing."

"All in all, it's sure to be telly gold, if it gets the go-ahead."

NICKI'S BIG COCK CALL

RAUNCHY Nicki Minaj delighted fans at a London concert when she asked if there were any "sexy boys with a big penis" in the crowd.

The rapper (right), 36, was at the O2 Arena, for a bumper 36 song set-list.

Within minutes she was being wheeled around on a four poster bed before simulating masturbation to her aptly titled song Feeling Myself.

She later put out the cock shout. A fan said: "She's hot."

Inbetweeners James given a 'horrible' cock

THE Inbetweeners
Movie writer Damon Beesley has revealed the "most expensive" effect in the film is when James Buckley's alter ego Jay Cartwright has his swimming trunks pulled down – because they needed to use a STUNT COCK.

Buckley was given a "horrible ck" for the film after he annoyed Beesley by refusing to strip for the scene. A double had to be found at the last minute after James (above), 31, refused to expose his manhood.

Damon, 48, said he took "vicious delight" in superimposing the double's penis on James as viewers would assume he had exposed his own bits.

In an interview he said: "It was annoying for us was because he'd had the script for about eight months.

"We found someone in Majorca, where we filmed. I said to James we had a double.

"It's a full-length body shot of James but someone with a much more horrible cock superimposed. Nobody knows it's not his. I had a little vicious delight in that."

Wonga compo claims rocket

OVER 40,000 Wonga customers are seeking compensation from the defunct payday lender, with administrators to the firm expecting the number to shoot up further.

Documents released by the Treasury Committee show that the number has mushroomed from a January estimate of 10,500 as more borrowers sold unaffordable loans come forward, chairwoman Nicky Morgan was told.

Wonga collapsed in August after it was hit by a surge in people making compensation claims over historical loans.

Mrs Morgan wrote to corporate undertakers Grant Thornton to ask how the accountancy firm intends to progress outstanding complaints.

Its boss Dave Dunclely responded saying that they will set up a portal for customers to make claims directly online.

GAME OF THRONES EXCLUSIVE

'Er, how many fingers do you have, Emilia?'

WITH just weeks to go until the start of Game of Thrones season eight, star Emilia Clarke has defended the level of nudity in the "tits and dragons" fantasy drama.

As fans eagerly await the final series of the HBO classic, Emilia has denied it's just a big ol' nude fest.

In the past the fantasy drama has sparked headlines over violence and nudity.

Epic

And a scene involving Kit Harington's bare bum was billed by some as an 'epic' moment in the show's history.

But Emilia is defiant. She stormed: "Kit's ass, someone else's ass, my ass, it doesn't matter! It's not what the show is about, it's not what any bit of acting is about.

"As for my character, I can count on one hand the amount of times I've been naked.

"I can talk about the importance of women in this show until the cows come home. It has gone a way to changing the landscape of the industry as we see it, which is really vital and really important."

Co-star Gwendoline Christie echoed Emilia's sentiments and said her character, Brienne, 'was defying gender norms and the female perceptions that we have' on TV thus far.

In the interests of research, Midweek Sport checked just how many times Emilia HAS been naked in the series...

Kerry chooses new fellas by their 'sex face'

KERRY Katona admits she sizes a man up by wondering what face he'd pull if they were having sex.

The mum-of-five let slip the method on the latest installment of Celebs Go Dating.

When shown an image of a potential suitor by dating experts Anna Williamson and Paul Carrick Brunson, Kerry squinted at the photograph.

Explaining what she was doing, the Atomic Kitten star (above), 39, said: "Sometimes I try imagining what they look like when they're having sex, what kind of face would he pull?"

But Kerry decided to meet the man for the E4 show, saying: "It's a picture. A picture can say 1000 words, but till you meet somebody..."

On the date the man – Giancarlo from Romford, east London – used phrases such as "are you off to dump your kids off at the pool", a euphemism for taking a poo.

Kerry declined to see him again but said: "I've not had sex in a long, long time... that's what I need to sort out!"

Last Big Bang show date set

THE date for the final episode of long-running sitcom The Big Bang Theory has been announced.

U.S. TV network CBS said the last episode, an hour-long special, will arrive on May 16.

E4, which broadcasts the programme in the UK, will show it at a later date.

Jim Parsons, Kaley Cuoco, Johnny Galecki, Mayim Bialik, Melissa Rauch, Simon Helberg, and Kunal Nayyar star in the show, which has been one of the most popular comedies on TV since it launched in 2007.

The programme will end after 12 seasons and 279 episodes, and will be the longest-running multi-camera series in television history.

GREALISH THUG 'WILL BE KEPT IN NONCE WING'

MIDWEEK Sport NEWS EXCLUSIVE

GREAL SHAME: But thug will pay price in jail (right)

SOCCER thug Paul Mitchell will be forced to live amongst paedophiles and rapists during his prison term over fears he will be attacked in jail.

The Birmingham City fan, 27, was jailed for 14 weeks after he ran onto the pitch at the club's St Andrews ground and punched rivals Aston Villa's ace midfielder Jack Grealish.

He will serve out his sentence in HMP Birmingham and prison guards have decided to keep him in the jail's nonce wing to protect him from angry Aston Villa fans who may be out for revenge. A source said: "Normally when a prisoner is this notorious, when they have done something really horrible, they need protection.

"This prick isn't exactly Ian Huntley but if we put him in with the general prison population there is a good chance he might not even get to see the week out.

"The safest place for him is in the vulnerable prisoners' wing. He's not a nonce but he'll be surrounded by them.

"There will be a price on his head."

It doesn't help that HMP Birmingham is officially one of the worst prisons in the country, with violence and poor hygiene.

Its last inspection reported how it's floors were littered with "cockroaches, blood and vomit".

Things were so bad that the private prison was taken off its owners G4S and is now being run by the government.

Experts say things have improved since but it is still one of the most dangerous prisons in the UK.

Go solo James on song after label 'blow'

JAMES Morrison says it was a "blow" when he was dropped by his record label, but now sees the setback as "more positive than negative".

The singer, 34, shot to fame with hits You Give Me Something and Broken Strings.

But after releasing four studio albums with Universal Music, including 2015's Higher Than Here, he was dropped from the label.

He is now releasing new record You're Stronger Than You Know on his own label, Stanley Park Records.

James (above) told BBC Breakfast: "It's more positive to me than negative."

"At the start it was a bit of a blow, but now I'm doing it myself and I feel a bit more confident in the space that I'm in."

"I feel I'm being supported a little bit more in the right way as an artist, so that in turn helped me be more creative."

NAKED TRAIN PLOP MAN 'MAY HAVE HAD STROKE'

SLURRED SPEECH: Hines

A HAIRDRESSER believes he may have suffered a stroke before he took off his clothes and took a dump on a busy commuter train, a court heard.

Malcolm Hines, 58, was on the Greater Anglia service after visiting his 104-year-old mother when he allegedly began to undress in front of passengers.

He was arrested and escorted from the train at Stratford station shortly before 6pm on February 15.

Defending, Martin Lewis told Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court: "It is an unusual case and there is no doubt he acted in this way."

"He is on a train coming into London from Southend, there are other people in the carriage."

"The defendant is then seen taking off his trousers and defecating on the floor."

Erratic

"British Transport Police attended at Stratford and escorted him off the train."

"His behaviour was erratic and he had to be handcuffed."

"The police had concerns about his behaviour, as it is very unusual, he was not taking any medication or under the influence of drugs."

Mr Lewis said Hines believes he was seriously ill at the time.

"Mr Hines was feeling very unwell, he had bloated hands, one side of his face was fallen and his speech was slurred."

"He believes he may have suffered a stroke."

Hines, who was said to be a wealthy man, went to the Royal Free Hospital the day after the incident and is now seeking private treatment to find the cause of his behaviour.

Mr Lewis told the court: "It may be that something happened to the defendant that caused him to act in this way. He is mortified."

"He has no recollection and all he can remember is having an argument with his mother's carers."

"He can remember getting on the train and then after he does not remember anything else."

Mr Lewis asked the court to adjourn the hearing so Hines could have an MRI scan to see if he had suffered any brain injury.

Hines, of Maida Vale, west London, did not enter a plea to one count of outraging public decency.

He will next appear at Highbury Magistrates Court on April 29.

Fern: Sex is great – but so is a brew!

TELLY presenter Fern Britton has revealed the secret to her long marriage to Phil Vickery – sex is good but so is a CUPPA!

Lifting the lid on their bedroom life, the former This Morning host (above) told a magazine: "Sex is great, but a cup of tea is great too."

"There's nothing nicer than getting into bed with a cuppa and having a hug and a chat – that's love."

"Lust is great, but when you really love someone and you trust each other, and you're in bed together drinking tea and chatting, that's a true relationship."

Fern, 61, met the celebrity chef, 57, on the set of Ready Steady Cook in 1999 and they married a year later.

Fern admits that the couple, who have been married 19 years, have "humdinger" rows but let each other have freedom.

She said: "Yes, we have humdingers, but then we're normal."

"Anyway, that's good for the children to see."

Woman who passed out close to oral sex 'had stroke'

A WOMAN was taken to hospital after suffering a STROKE while receiving ORAL SEX.

The 44-year-old, from west London, passed out as she was nearing orgasm – and scans later revealed a blood vessel had burst inside her skull.

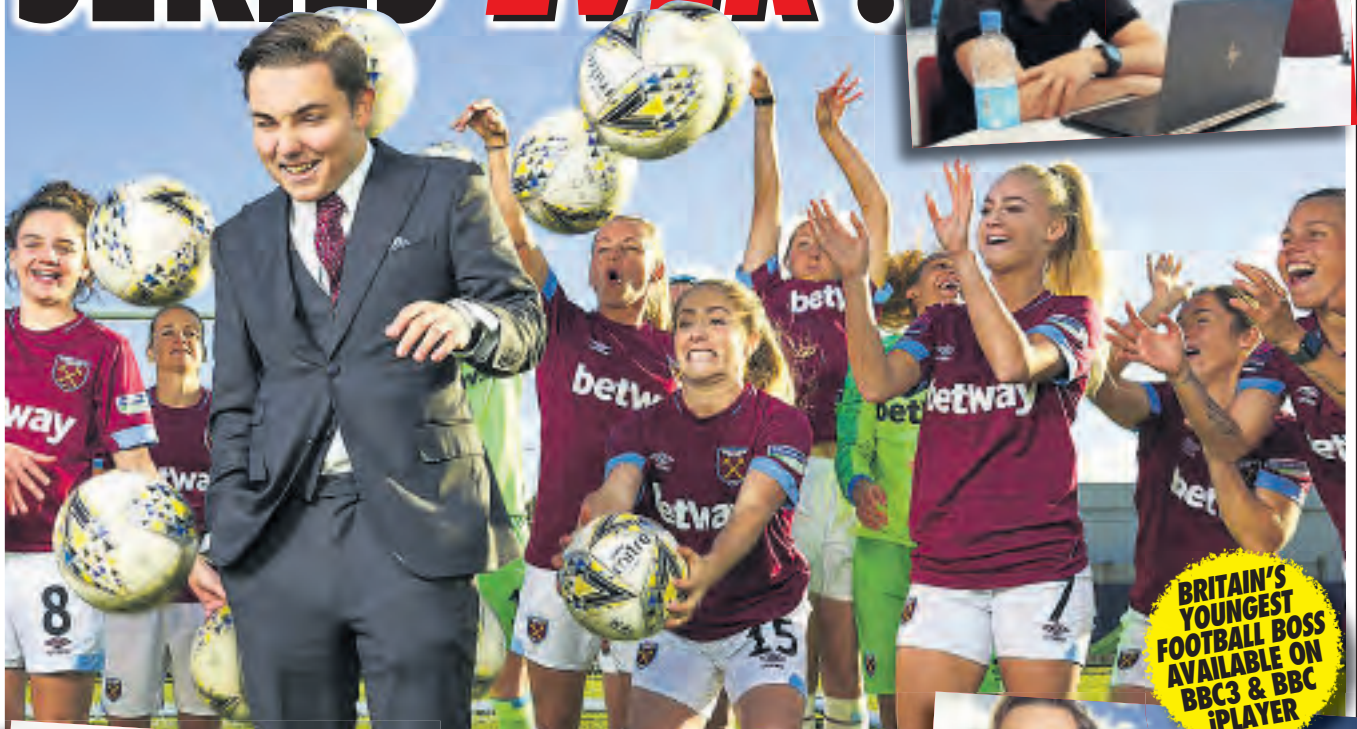

Despite only suffering a "moderate" headache when she came round, she was rushed to A&E.

Medics didn't directly explain what caused the stroke – but said changes in blood pressure during sex are "well-described" as a cause of bursting blood vessels.

The unnamed woman was treated at West Middlesex University Hospital in Isleworth, in the London borough of Hounslow.

Her partner, whose sex is unknown, noticed her "body was stiff" while performing oral sex on her.

IS THIS THE BEST FOOTBALL TV SERIES EVER?

ON THE BALL: Jack will give his all to bring success to West Ham

TEAM BUILDER: Jack has the full backing of experienced dad David

RUNNING a top-flight football club is never going to be an easy job for anyone...

For a 19-year-old, it's extraordinary.

But Jack Sullivan is no ordinary teenager. Jack, the youngest son of West Ham owner and Sport publisher David Sullivan, was appointed managing director of West Ham United women's team by his father in 2017.

And Jack's journey is the subject of a fascinating BBC documentary series called Britain's Youngest Football Boss.

The programme reveals how Jack was given the responsibility of overseeing the 18-strong women's squad, which competes in the top flight Women's Super League.

What's more, the teenager was also tasked with raising the profile of women's football – a sport often sneered at by male fans.

Mission

Jack, who lives in his family's £13million Essex mansion, clearly has the same dogged determination as his father, one of the richest men in the UK.

Jack tells the TV cameras: "I did work experience all around West Ham. I went around ticketing, retail, warehouse – that was instead of doing my A-Levels."

"As soon as that year finished I said 'Dad I want to do something. I want a task, a mission' and that was to run the ladies, which I love. I jumped in head first."

It's not been an easy

By GRACE HOOPER

ride. Dad David is confident of his teenage son's abilities to manage the women's team, but some of the players themselves are unsure about his young age.

A team member comments during the show: "That is a bit young to be a director of a club, but I believe he has good vision for the club to take the team to the top."

Britain's Youngest Football Boss, screened via the online-only BBC3 channel, is already a winner, attracting huge audiences.

Impressed critics are calling it "Engaging. This is one of the best football documentary series ever."

But the warmest words come from Jack's brother, David Junior.

He said: "I can't speak highly enough of him, to be honest. If he does manage to do it, arguably it could be one of the most impressive things in football."

Dr Bateman took to cyberspace clad in her trademark birthday suit – to warn that Brexit will leave Britain 'Naked'.

Cops find 2 MILLION vile images at farm

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MAN who amassed more than two million indecent images and stored weapons beneath his home has been jailed for 12 years and eight months.

Geoffrey Crossland, 70, was being investigated by child abuse officers who found guns and ammunition in an underground bunker when they raided his farmhouse in Harrogate, N Yorks.

He pleaded guilty to making indecent images and 11 firearms charges. Judge Andrew Stubbs said the "scale of the depravity" was hard to understand.

At York Crown Court, the judge added: "Your criminality was unearthed, almost literally, on October 18 last year, when officers searched your house for images of children."

"One issue which is not forgotten is that these images capture real life people, and at the same time, real life sexual abuse being carried out on them."

The "scale of the depravity" that the images depicted was hard for the public to understand, Judge Stubbs added.

Extreme

Crossland, of Padside Green Farm, previously admitted three counts of making indecent images between January 2011 and October 2018.

The images found at his home – 34,612 of which were in the most extreme category A – were described by the Crown Prosecution Service as one of the largest known collections in England and Wales.

Officers executed a search warrant of his home and found SD cards, USB sticks, DVDs, SIM cards, floppy disks, laptops, tablets and mobile phones containing the images.

He "painstakingly categorised" the pictures and some dated as far back as 1988.

His underground bunker was fitted with a shooting range and had an area for making ammunition.

Crossland's wife had answered the door when officers arrived, while he was on a shooting holiday in Argentina.

They found an "arsenal of weapons" and about 24,000 rounds of ammo.

He was arrested at Heathrow Airport on his return.

Crossland pleaded guilty to six charges of possessing prohibited firearms, two charges of possessing firearms without the relevant certificate, two charges of possessing ammunition without the relevant certificate, and one of possessing a shotgun without the relevant certificate.

Air pollution bigger killer than smoking

AIR pollution is a bigger global KILLER than smoking.

A new study suggests that 8.8million deaths per year around the world can be attributed to dirty air – chiefly fine sooty particles pouring out of vehicle exhausts, factories and power plants.

Co-author Professor Thomas Munzel, from the University Medical Centre Mainz in Germany, said: "To put this into perspective, this means that air pollution causes more extra deaths a year than tobacco smoking, which the World Health Organisation estimates was responsible for an extra 7.2million deaths in 2015.

"Smoking is avoidable, but air pollution is not." Air pollution was thought to have caused 64,000 deaths in the UK in 2015.

georgie DARBY

GORGEOUS Georgie Darby says she wants to enjoy a bonkathon where she's so satisfied it HURTS.

The kinkster says she's ready for a good seeing-to EIGHT TIMES a day and wants hot, porn-style, filthy sex every time.

Georgie, 26, from Guildford, Surrey, has both nipples of her 32F boobies pierced.

More shockingly, she says a fella once pleased her with his huge dick while she was tied up.

She said: "If it was up to me, I would have sex seven or eight times a day. I like the feeling of being totally satisfied – to the point where you're almost sore!

"I love ANYTHING kinky. I love being tied up to a bed and being seen to by a dominating man.

"One time in particular, I was tied to a chair with my hands behind my back and a gag in my mouth.

"I sat and watched as this guy came over and removed my gag – and put his huge cock in my mouth.

"I loved it, it was so sexy, it was just like being in a filthy porno."

A COUPLE who became intimate in a mosque continued having sex in the street when they were thrown out by horrified worshippers, a court heard.

Rashaan Anderson-Williams, 24, and beauty consultant Selina Dellaverde, 40, had been out clubbing and were confronted by locals attending an early morning call to prayer at 6am.

Paul Rattigan, prosecuting, told Blackfriars Crown Court: "They were caught laying in some sort of intimacy in the mosque."

"Many people were disturbed and they were quickly ejected from the mosque by worshippers."

"They were asked to leave but then began having sex in the street."

The court was shown body cam footage from a police officer arresting the couple for having sex outside the Al-Nehar mosque in Islington, north London.

Mr Rattigan said: "They admitted to some sort of sexual intimacy

Adrian Lee, defending, said: "Mr Anderson-Williams was embarrassed, he is deeply regretful and remorseful."

"He knows his behaviour distressed other people by going into a mosque. It is not appropriate his three children see him in that particular light."

Judge John Hillen said the pair had been "completely irresponsible" and sentenced them to 80 hours' community service along with costs of £150.

He also banned them from entering pubs or clubs for three months.

Anderson-Williams, of Enfield, and Dellaverde, of Islington, both admitted outraging public decency following the incident on January 6.

HEROIN MISS GETS 10 YEARS FOR SEX WITH TEEN PUPIL

DRUGS BUST: Staff and students noticed Spencer behaving unusually

A HEROIN-smoking teacher will serve a lengthy spell behind bars after she admitted having a sexual relationship with an underage student.

Raquel Spencer was jailed for 10 years after pleading guilty to sexual assault on the youngster.

Spencer had been an English teacher at Northwest Whitfield High School in Whitfield County, Georgia, since 2013, and was an assistant at cheerleading and girls' track and field training.

By JAYNE FERGUSON

She was arrested in April 2018 after staff and students at school noticed her behaving unusually and notified school officials.

Spencer consented to a search and heroin was found in her locker.

A day later, additional charges were added when investigators determined Spencer was sexually involved with the student, who cannot be identified.

Crazy

They had discovered evidence of the relationship on her mobile phone, but did not go into specifics.

The Whitfield County Sheriff's Office, North Georgia, said its initial investigation revealed Spencer was involved in a sexual relationship with the underage student for at least a year.

Spencer must also serve 90 to 120 days in a probation detention center – a minimum security facility that provides counselling, life skills classes and substance abuse counselling.

She will pay a £1,000 fine plus court costs, perform 300 hours of community service and observe all sex offender special conditions of probation.

A charge against Spencer for possession of a controlled substance was dropped as part of a plea agreement.

One parent living in the area said: "This is crazy, the stuff of nightmares."

"It's the type of thing that wouldn't be out of place in a movie."

"It's bad enough that this woman was taking heroin into school and even using it while she was there."

"But on top of that, we then discover she's been having sex with a student."

"It's horrific."

Country fan Una lands radio show

SATURDAYS singer Una Healy is set to have her own show on the UK's first national country music radio station.

The 37-year-old star (above) will host a weekend programme on Country Hits Radio.

The station launches next month and will play pop country music and the artists that cross over into the charts – with acts like Keith Urban, Kacey Musgraves and Carrie Underwood.

Una, who rose to fame in 2008 as a member of the English-Irish girl group, said she's become a big fan of country.

She added: "When you look at the success of artists such as The Shires and Ward Thomas as well as huge events like the Country 2 Country music festival, it's clear there's a real audience for country music in the UK."

"It's a genre I've fallen in love with – I can't wait to get started!"

Olivia captioned the shot: "When you can feel yourself losing the argument, so you

One said: "I was going to argue but instead I've spunked in my kecks!"

Baseball pair electrocuted at kids' game

A FLORIDA high school baseball coach and his wife have been killed by electrocution while they installed a new scoreboard, to replace one destroyed by a recent hurricane.

Coach Corey Crum and a group of baseball players and parents were putting up the scoreboard on Sunday afternoon, said Liberty County School board member Kyle Peddle.

Kyle said the coach was in "some kind of lift and he got into an electrical line".

Mr Peddle, whose son is also on the team, said Mr Crum's wife Shana came to her husband's aid and was also electrocuted.

The couple died at the scene.

The couple's son Chase was also injured.

Liberty County sheriff's officials said in a Facebook post that team members were taken to the gym, where grief counsellors were available.

OUR SERIES ON GANG BOSSES ENDS WITH 'When he of his Capone'

THIS month marks the 90th anniversary of history's most famous mob hit – the St Valentine's Day massacre.

Seven men were gunned down in broad daylight after being lured to a garage in Chicago's North Side expecting to take part in a bootlegging deal.

Instead, they were found lying on the garage's blood-soaked floor side by side, victims of a ruthless battle between two gangs.

Legendary gangster Al Capone has always been assumed to have been behind the slaughter of seven rivals, but to this day no one has ever actually claimed responsibility.

KINGS of CRIME

PART SIX

By JUSTIN DUNN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

ALPHONSE Gabriel Capone was not a man for changing his mind – or even allowing others an attempt to change it for him.

He once famously said: "In my life, all I have is my word and my balls, and I do not break them for nobody."

Capone spent just seven years as a mob boss in Chicago – but his reign helped change the criminal and political landscape of the United States forever.

The most famous hit attributed to him – but one he never admitted – happened on February 14, 1929.

Shot

On that day, a mob member called Frank Gusenberg was rushed to the hospital.

As soon as he had been stabilised, cops arrived to question him as to how he had sustained the 14 gunshot wounds that brought him in – and, most importantly, who had shot him.

"No one shot me," he replied.

Just three hours later, Gusenberg was dead.

He thus became the final victim of a highly orchestrated crime, Chicago's most infamous mob hit, which would come to be known as the St Valentine's Day Massacre.

The hit had been carefully planned and executed by notorious mobster Capone, to eliminate a rival gang boss, George "Bugs" Moran.

Bugs was a bootlegger and rival of Capone's, who distributed his illegal liquor from a warehouse on Chicago's North Side.

Though no one was ever convicted of the crime, the consensus is that Capone orchestrated it to simply get Bugs out of his way.

Moran had been working on procuring a shipment of stolen Canadian whiskey, an enterprise which Capone was already heavily invested in.

Those who believe Capone orchestrated the murders point out that the two mob bosses had had plenty of run-ins in the past over territory disputes and Bugs' determination to take over Capone's suppliers.

Hit

The theory is that Capone lured Bugs to a warehouse, under the guise of readying a car to drive to Canada, and hit his rival before he knew what happened.

Around 10.30am on that February day, four men raided Bugs' Lincoln Park warehouse.

Two were dressed as police officers and armed with

CAGED: Capone was held in the infamous Alcatraz maximum security prison submachine guns, the other two wore suits, ties, overcoats and hats.

Inside the warehouse were five of Bugs' men, along with two car mechanics.

The last to arrive was Albert Weinshank, whose arrival signalled to the armed men to carry out the raid.

As Weinshank exited his Cadillac on the street and made his way into the warehouse, he was accosted by two police officers, who forced him inside.

Believing he and his fellow gangsters were being arrested, they lined up against the wall, their backs to the police, all remaining silent so as not to out their boss.

As soon as the men were in line, the police officers signalled to the two plainclothes men waiting outside, armed with the submachine guns.

Before Bugs' men knew what hit them, the armed men opened fire, emptying an entire 20-round box magazine and a 50-round drum into the men.

Mistake

They continued shooting even after all seven men had hit the floor.

The men dressed as officers then escorted the assassins out of the building, under the guise of arresting them.

They then fled the scene, remaining unidentified to this day.

BRITAIN'S BIGGEST SEX LIES!

By MAX RADLEY news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE 10 biggest sex lies told by both men and women have been revealed.

Women's most popular lie is to reduce the real number of men they have slept with.

More than half of women (52 per cent) said they had cut the real figure of their past lovers when talking about previous relationships with a new lover or friends.

Men's most popular lie was to deny ever cheating on a previous partner.

Four out of 10 men (44 per cent) said they hidden previous infidelity because they were worried it would put off a new lover.

The results are in a new survey of 2,000 men and women, split evenly between the sexes, by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading dating site for married people.

The second biggest female sex lie was to fake an orgasm – 46 per cent of women have done this.

Masturbate

In third place was saying 'I love you' when they don't really mean it followed by lying to friends about how much sex they're having with a new partner.

The second biggest male sex lie was denying they ever watch porn, chosen by 42 per cent of male respondents, and third was saying they rarely masturbate (36 per cent).

In fourth place was telling a white lie about a woman looking great then about the number of past lovers – but unlike women, 28 per cent of men are likely to increase rather than decrease their total.

IllicitEncounters.com spokesman Christian Grant said: "Both sexes like to tell sex lies but it is interesting to discover just how different those lies are."

Woman saws off hand for compo

A WOMAN has been accused of deliberately cutting off her hand with a CIRCULAR SAW for an insurance claim.

The 21-year-old and a relative are still in custody and face up to eight years in jail if convicted.

The woman, who recently took out injury insurance, stood to gain £340,000 in compensation plus monthly payments of £2,600 from the policy.

Four members of the family, who said she had injured herself while sawing branches, were held then released.

Police say the group deliberately cut the woman's hand above the wrist at their home in Ljubljana, Slovenia.

The group left the severed hand behind rather than bring it to hospital – to make the disability permanent – but medics recovered it in time to sew it back on.

"It was a really hot summer's day and we were both soon feeling really horny.

"I took his hand and led him into some bushes near the canal bank and we started to undress each other.

"I could feel his cock stiffening with excitement and I was ready to take it all. I was that moist.

"I decided I'd tease him by giving him a blowjob first.

"He was nearly ready to explode when a party boat with a bunch of lads drinking beer went past and they caught sight of us.

"The cheers could be heard for miles. And we didn't disappoint them as we carried on and I ended up with my face covered in my fella's juice."

Boozer mistook his own vomit for blood

A DRUNK got behind the wheel of his car after he mistook his own vomit for blood and feared someone had been murdered.

Darren Wharton pleaded guilty to drink-driving his Volkswagen Golf when he appeared before JPs.

Wharton, 44, was found to be nearly double the legal limit when he drove after drinking with work colleagues in Workington, Cumbria, on December 9.

Diane Jackson, prosecuting, told the town's magistrates: "The defendant was staying at the Washington Central Hotel following a work night out. He believed he saw blood all over the bed."

The court heard that Wharton then left his room, became "agitated" and decided he needed to get away from the hotel.

"He believed that he'd witnessed a murder," Ms Jackson added.

Lager

Wharton climbed into his car and drove a short distance. Then he decided to call the police, the court heard.

When they arrived he urged them to check the his hotel room.

Ms Jackson said: "They discovered that what he believed to be blood was his vomit, which was red.

"He said to the officer: 'What an idiot, I'll lose my job for this'.

"When interviewed, he said he'd had several pints of lager and didn't remember going to bed. "He panicked because he believed there was blood everywhere."

Wharton's defence, Chris Toms, asked the District Judge to take into account that he had believed there was an emergency.

He told the court: "It was a matter of a panic. He said he called police because he thought there was a greater crime going on. He thought that someone had been hurt."

Wharton, of Carlisle, Cumbria, was banned from driving for 18 months and fined £500.

Man, 91, snared by 'hookers'

A 91-YEAR-OLD was among 18 men suspected of kerb-crawling who were nicked by cops, during a seven-hour anti-hooker effort.

During the operation, undercover female police officers posed as prostitutes to lure the men, but were stunned that the OAP was among those snared.

Several "Johns" who saw the officers reportedly pulled over looking to buy sex in Pomona, California, only to get their collars, not their penises, felt.

'Bent' vice cop paid hookers for sex romps

A BENT copper forced women to have sex with him under threat of arrest, pressured others to help cover up crimes and lied to investigators when he said he'd never had sex with prostitutes. Vice squad Officer Andrew Mitchell, 55, was arrested and charged with witness tampering, obstruction of justice, making a false statement to federal investigators, and deprivation of rights. A federal indictment accused Mitchell (above) – a 30-year veteran of the force in Columbus, Ohio – of arresting two different women and forcing them to have sex before he released them. Later, during the federal investigation, Mitchell lied when he told the FBI he'd never had sex with a hooker, since Mitchell knew "he has had sex with numerous prostitutes, including having paid women money for sex", said the indictment. Mitchell plans to fight the charges and enter a not guilty plea, his attorney said.

FAKE TAXI FOR YOU!

Your chance to own piece of porn history as cab goes up for sale

GROT fans have the chance to own a piece of porn history – a taxi used to film more than 200 sex scenes.

The Fake Taxi porn firm is one of Britain's most successful adult film makers and has shot scenes with legends like Georgie Lyall and Michelle Thorne getting rogered senseless. The premise starts with an "unsuspecting" porn actress as she climbs into the back a black cab which is wired up with cameras. And that means when they then take a huge cock in all their holes they are filmed from every angle. But now the original taxi from the series is up for sale. Sadly, it had to be withdrawn from eBay after it was revealed the sellers hadn't cleaned all the spunk off the back seats.

A source said: "This is a piece of history and the lucky new owner will be able to revel in the fact that more jizz has been spilled in that cab than any other vehicle in history."

Annoyed

"We're a bit annoyed that it was taken off eBay but we've got lots of people interested and are now working on a final sale. Unfortunately, despite the huge historical interest, the National Trust weren't interested in taking it off our hands. Ah well...their loss!"

TELLY KATH FINGERING STORM

TELLY viewers were shocked when actress Katherine Kelly was seen FINGERING her MINGE in public.

The former Coronation Street star's character in new ITV drama Cheat writhed in pleasure as she performed a solo sex act in a toilet cubicle at the university where she works.

In the graphic scene, lecturer Leah is caught out as she fantasises about a male colleague.

Leah, who is trying for a baby in her unhappy marriage with Adam, thinks she's alone when she gets a over-excited.

After walking into the toilets, she imagines that her hunky colleague

Stephan has walked into the room and started kissing her.

Things get amorous in the fantasy as he pins her up against the wall and shoves his hands down her trousers while kissing her neck.

Leah breathes heavily as she gives herself over to the pleasure as it's revealed she's actually alone in the cubicle.

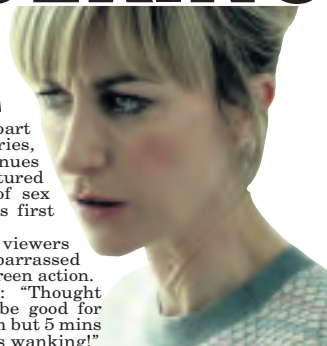

The camera then cuts to the sinks outside, where Leah has left her bag and ID badge, and where someone is seen washing their hands.

Leah stops when she hears the tap running, aware that she's been caught mid-wank.

The four-part drama series, which continues tonight, featured a number of sex scenes in its first episode.

But some viewers seemed embarrassed by the on-screen action.

One said: "Thought this would be good for me and mum but 5 mins in someone's wanking!"

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexie,

I LIVE in a semi which backs on to another one occupied by a very attractive young widow in her 30s.

I went round there one day to ask if she would mind me cutting the hedge between our houses.

After I'd finished, she made me a coffee and we sat in her kitchen chatting. Then, without warning, she stripped off and asked me if I'd like to shag her!

I couldn't believe my luck and I was soon deep inside the blonde beauty – and she was one hell of a ride.

She encouraged me to fill all her holes and enjoyed three climaxes during our 50-minute session while I shot my load all over her face and boobs.

Since then I've been back for more brilliant nookie. But what do I do if the wife finds out?

NL, Leeds

Bexie says...

I HOPE she DOES find out, you cheat.

Dear Bexie,

I'M in my late 30s and I have to admit that I have never been that successful with the ladies.

It's not that I haven't got anything useful in my trousers – in fact I've got a pretty impressive seven-incher – it's more to do with my unusual looks.

I have a really big nose – think Barry Manilow and then add a couple of extra inches – and most fit women run a mile when I come on to them.

But I have found a few women who are strangely attracted to my big hooter and I use it to the best of my ability by bonking babes with my "nasal knob".

I do get some satisfaction from this, but now I'm starting to worry there may be some health risks involved with this.

Should I use some kind of a nose condom?

MB, Devon

Bexie says...

I THINK the only problem you'll have is a permanent whiff of minge in your nostrils.

Filthy MILFS want to charge me £100 for a sex session

Dear Bexie,

I PULLED two crackers at a club in my local town.

They were both blonde and in their early 40s – and they were as dirty as a dog's arse!

I bought them a few drinks and then we got a cab back to my place.

They stripped off and I watched as they put on a lesbo show for me – licking each other out.

By then I was rock-hard and I got a grip of one of them and boned her from behind while the other licked my bollocks.

They then both sucked me off in turn and I ended up splashing my steaming hot ball brew on their faces.

I've shagged them a few times since, but the problem is that they now want £50 each for any future sessions!

I'm half tempted, because I'm 50 and I haven't got a chance of pulling more birds like these.

What do you think?

GS, Essex

Bexie says...

ONLY if you can afford it.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week BEXIE WILLIAMS has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Scheming office girl's got me by the balls!

Dear Bexie,

I'M a 43-year-old married man with my own repair business.

A few months ago I advertised for someone to answer the phone and take messages at my small office in the centre of town.

A girl aged 19 applied – she was bright and seemed perfect for the job so I took her on and she was a great help from the start.

But one day a few months ago I got into work to find her sobbing her little heart out.

She's had a big bust-up with her parents and they'd thrown her out! I felt sorry for her and consoled her as much as I could, but she was upset.

Kissed

Now I also own a couple of flats and one had been empty for a few weeks, after the previous tenants left to work abroad.

So I took her round to see it and told her that she could stay there until she got herself sorted out – either with her own place or if she ended up building bridges with her mum and dad and moved back into the family home.

Well, she was over the moon about my generous offer and I felt good about being able to help her out.

Over the following days I also helped her furnish the flat and soon she'd made it into a cosy little home for herself.

One evening she invited me for a meal, to thank me for everything, and when I arrived after work she was wearing the shortest skirt I'd ever seen.

After our meal we sat on the sofa – then she suddenly kissed me full-on!

She said she had wanted sex with me the first time she saw me.

I must say I found her very attractive and succumbed to her advances.

She stripped naked and then unzipped me and pulled out my stiff cock.

She massaged it for a while before guiding me into her moist love-hole.

I've always been a stayer and I managed to keep going for long enough to give her three orgasms before I shot my load.

Shortly after, I left to drive home. But when I reached my house my wife handed me a piece of paper with a phone number on it and told me to ring urgently.

I did, and it was my young office girl on the other end, aggressively saying she would not be coming to work the following day.

I asked her why the hell not – and she said she just didn't feel like it!

And since then she's turned up to work only a couple of times.

I can't do anything about it because she has threatened to tell the wife about our night of passion.

And she reckons she has our whole sordid night of lust recorded on a small webcam that she set up in the front room of the flat I'm letting her still live in – rent bloody free!

What can I do about this scheming little tart?

FW, Hampshire

Bexie says...

THREATEN to report her to the police for blackmail. And sack her. Immediately.

Dear Bexie,

I crave a threesome with blonde and brunette pals

Dear Bexie,

I PULLED a cracking bit of skirt the other night at a mate's 30th birthday party.

She was about 25, with long blonde hair, and her hot bod looked awesome in a skin-tight red dress.

We chatted at the bar for a while and after a couple of shots and glasses of fizz she said she was up for a night of shagging at her place!

In the back of the taxi, she was talking dirty to me and groping my cock through my strides.

So by the time we got to her flat, we were both ready for it. She lived with a friend, who was still sat up in the lounge watching telly.

But my girl told me not to worry as she threw me down on a couch, stripped off and got down on her hands and knees to give me an expert blowjob.

Screaming

I leaned back to enjoy the gobble as her brunette mate watched us at it while pulling her dressing gown open and rubbing her knickerless pussy.

After almost shooting my load twice, I gave her a clit a good licking before I banged her hard from behind until she was screaming with delight.

Meanwhile, her flatmate was ramming three fingers into her dripping hole while enjoying the floor show.

After I finally climaxed all over the blonde's arse, I got dressed and got a taxi home in the early hours.

Now I can't help thinking about a threesome with the pair of them. Is this normal?

TB, Manchester

Bexie says...

YES – you are still feeling unfulfilled sexually because you didn't get to dip your wick in the brunette.

CLA

THE ESSEX TWINS

By SIMON DEAN

simon@sundaysport.co.uk

AFTER the famous Burton Twins, the world was waiting for another double act of blonde twins who were also topless models.

Thankfully, Rea and Tonya French, from Chelmsford, Essex, came along to fill the void.

They called themselves the Essex Twins and the brace of beauties hit the scene in the mid-Noughties – just as the so-called "lads-mag" craze was catching up with Sunday Sport's idea that blokes love bare babes.

Rea and Tonya were regulars in the paper and are still acting and modelling.

In 2013 Tonya married

footballer Lee Barnard and the pair became involved in property development.

HOLD onto yer hats...

we've got a real treat for neil@sundaysport.co.uk

DVDs and toys or unbeatable money off offers.

To get your copies of The Business, The Small Delights Of Koreena and All Pleasure No Pain all you have to do to collect your FREE XXX sex films is turn up at one of the Private Shops listed on this page with a copy of the Sport (any edition will do). There is no minimum purchase and no hidden charges!

Amazing

This amazing triple bill, which comes on one disc for your convenience, is jam-packed with full-on sex from some of the hottest young talent in the business.

But be warned, this is not faked sex but actual footage of horny young people having actual penetrative sex to completion.

And remember, it's 100% FREE when you call in at your local Private Shop.

If you can't make it to one of the shops then you can still get your films by using the credit card line or by using the coupon below.

But don't mess about, this offer won't be around forever...we can't afford it, for one thing!

I OFTEN get told that butter wouldn't melt, but don't be fooled – because I love to get BOSSY in the bedroom.

Role playing as a dominatrix gets me so aroused that I find I get soaking wet just by dressing up!

I often squeeze into skimpy rubber and PVC numbers that don't leave much to the imagination.

Orgasm

It really turns me on to be in charge of the sex, and my fella loves it when I am!

I'm a massive fan of girl on top. It gives me so much more control over my orgasm – and my fella, of course.

It's a huge turn-on to tell him what to do... it's a massive power trip that gets me so turned on I can orgasm within seconds when he finally slips it inside me – or I slide onto him.

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

KATIE SALMON

TRAFFIC warden Phil Norman would happily turn a blind eye if saucy Katie Salmon parked on double yellow lines.

Phil, 39, told us the 22-year-old 34DD babe is his ideal woman and said he'd let her off a parking ticket every time – if he was lucky enough to run into her in their native Liverpool.

He said: "Katie is the sexiest girl I've ever seen."

"In my line of work I meet gorgeous women all the time, who try to use their looks to get out of parking tickets."

"But I never pay any attention, to be honest."

"But if Katie had parked her car illegally, I think I would let her leave it there!"

HANNAH CLAYDON

WE wonder what it was about big-boobed Hannah Claydon that caught the eye of Glasgow plumber Niall Campbell.

The 30-year-old beauty, from Wakefield, West Yorks, boasts an eye-watering pair of 28Hs and Niall, 31, told us he never gets bored of ogling them.

He said: "Hannah has got to be one of the fittest models on the planet. She's way better than all of these reality TV stars."

"It would make my day if you'd put a picture of her in the paper soon, cheers!"

MIA LINA

THIS picture request of 22-year-old Mia Line is courtesy of hotel worker Alun Cartwright, from Torquay.

Alun, 46, said he's been a fan of the Sport since day one and has always had a soft spot for 32C scorchers Mia, from Brighton.

Alun emailed to ask for a pic of his favourite model, adding: "Mia is one of the cutest models of all time."

"She looks like the girl next door – until she gets her kit off!"

"It would really brighten up my day if I opened the Midweek Sport to see a photo of Mia."

I'M BAYERN A BIG WIN FOR REDS

OVER two-thirds of sides who have drawn the away first leg of a Champions League knockout tie (21 of 31) have qualified for the next round so the stats suggest it is advantage Bayern when Liverpool travel to Bavaria this evening for the second leg of their last 16 tie. I'm not so sure.

Bayern went top of the Bundesliga table at the weekend and are trying to reach their eighth successive Champions League quarterfinal which is a testimony to their rich heritage and quality.

Jürgen Klopp's record in the Munich Arena is P14 W4 L9 D1 but I feel the Reds will grab a vital away goal and that would be enough to see them into Friday's draw if they avoid defeat.

Bayern failed to muster a single shot on target at Anfield a fortnight ago when the Reds were without the suspended Virgil Van Dijk and I feel that lack of ambition will come back to haunt them.

Liverpool are 10/11 to qualify at BetVictor and that is the recommendation.

Bayern have scored 11 times in their last two league games and have only failed to score once in their last 26 home Champions League games. The hosts are 21/20 to win with the Reds 12/5 and the draw at 27/10 with BetVictor.

The Reds only scored once in their three away games in the Group stages of the competition – a James Milner penalty – and they will have to be at their very best with Bayern in such good form but, let's not forget Liverpool's own proud history in the competition. I feel they will get a 1-1 draw which is priced at 13/2 with BetVictor.

Favourite

In this evening's other tie Barcelona ought to prevail against Lyon who have lost all three of their Champions League games in the Nou Camp by an aggregate score of 10-2.

The French side have drawn their last six Champions League games and were, arguably, fortunate to keep a clean sheet in Lyon and I expect Barca to make serene progress into the last eight.

Barca to win to nil is 23/20 at BetVictor and that is the recommendation.

The feature race on Day two of the Cheltenham Festival today is the Champion Chase and last year's winner Altior is hard to oppose for Nicky Henderson, but he makes little appeal from a betting medium.

Tiger Roll is another short-priced favourite who is looking to follow up a win in the corresponding X-Country race 12 months ago, but I feel the French raider Urgent De Gregaine (14/1 with BetVictor who are betting four places) can reward each way support.

In the opening Ballymore Novices' Hurdle, I'm a bit concerned about the combination of 2m 5f on soft ground for City Island (9/1 at BetVictor four places) but I will be disappointed if he doesn't run a big race for Martin Brassil and can reward each way support.

BENCHED: Where Gundogan has spent too much time for his liking

City's Gun is gonna go off

MIDFIELD ACE READY TO QUIT ETIHAD ON A FREE

MANCHESTER City will be forced to sell Ilkay Gundogan at the end of this season – or he'll walk on a free in 2020.

The German playmaker is stalling on a new deal to keep him at the club when his contract expires in less than 18 months' time.

He's still only 28 and could be expected to command a big fee. And he's dropping some heavy hints that he's not happy as a bit-part player for Pep Guardiola.

Gundogan said: "There is no decision yet otherwise I would've signed. I'd say we are still in talks but I don't feel much pressure. I am 28 years old, my next contract will maybe decide where I will be until the end of their career.

By PAUL THOMAS

"Everyone feels different, maybe someone feels like a new challenge or to change something.

"I am always open-minded for challenges. It's a personal situation. It's not obvious but everyone has to make their own decision

"At the moment I try to play as good as possible and I guess after the season we will sit and talk again.

"My main target at the moment is to go for all the competitions and be successful."

Some of the classy midfielders critics say he isn't robust enough to play in the Premier League.

But Gundogan thinks that's nonsense despite him missing plenty of game time since moving to the Etihad.

Impact

He ruptured cruciate ligaments in 2016, keeping him out for eight months. And a hamstring injury sidelined him for five weeks earlier in this campaign.

Despite that he has still clocked up 1010 appearances for City since signing three years ago. But it's fair to say he probably hasn't had the impact hoped for when moving from Borussia Dortmund where he starred for club and country.

Gundogan thinks it's wrong to say he isn't tough enough for English football.

He said: "You have to prove you can play a number of games, in that case there is not a huge difference between playing in England and somewhere else but our squad is also big enough to rotate.

"In the last few years especially, after coming here with a big injury, I have proved that I can play in England for more than two or three seasons.

"That shouldn't be an issue at all."

OLE'S UNITED FIT FOR FIGHT

OLE Gunnar Solskjaer believes Manchester United can push for the top four with a fully fit squad.

The Reds have largely kept the show on the road despite having a host of key players on the sidelines. They came up short against Arsenal at the weekend but that clash was just a couple of days after their amazing Champions League win at Paris St Germain.

Despite that reverse the Norwegian is still on course to win a place in the top four that looked more than unlikely when Jose Mourinho was parking the bus before Christmas.

United have had to do without Juan Mata, Ander Herrera, Jesse Lingard, Phil Jones, Alexis Sanchez and Antonio Valencia while Nemanja Matic and Eric Bailly have also been short-term absentees.

It's the FA Cup this weekend but United sit in fifth place, just two points behind the Gunners with eight Premier League matches to go.

The international break follows their quarter-final trip to take on Wolves and that gives Solskjaer the chance to get his crocks back on to the field.

He'll need to because the games

By JOHN ANTHONY

come thick and fast in the final two months of the season.

The Norwegian said: "The run of injuries we have had has given us a great chance to give players playing time and game-time and they're coming back maybe for Wolves but after the international break we've got a full squad fit."

"The ones who've come in when the regulars have been injured have done really well, so we'll be ready for that."

United defender Chris Smalling is another who has struggled to get on the pitch over the past couple of seasons but his return to form and fitness has been key to the Reds' run up the table.

He has been sharing the secrets of his methods to keep his constant knee problems at bay.

Smalling believes it's because he won't eat meat after turning vegan a year ago.

Vegan

Now he's pledged to never go near a sausage again — unless it's veggie one!

He said: "Physically I had a lot of tendinitis in my knee and once I went fully vegan those symptoms fully went away."

"I realised how brutal it is to animals, how unnecessary it is for us and how damaging it is for the environment."

"My pre-match I have spaghetti bolognese, just a vegan version, and quite often what I have is just a vegan version of whatever I would have had anyway."

"It's just been refreshing to have other players as well as staff around the training ground, asking me questions and try different dishes, the chef makes a vegan section for me but quite often it's all gone by the end of dinner."

"I think people are open to trying new things."

JONJO WANTS TO STAY IN TOON

JONJO Shelvey has rubbished reports linking him with a move back to his native London — insisting he wants to fight for his Newcastle future.

The Cockney has been at the centre of rumours of a move to Fulham or even West Ham after a frustrating season at St James's Park.

The midfielder has made just eight league starts as injuries have kept him on the sidelines.

Boss Rafa Benitez has said Shelvey is not in his first-choice side but that's not putting off a player who was good enough to earn six England caps and play 69 games for Liverpool as a youngster.

By ANDY MILLOM

He's still only 27 and believes he has a lot to offer the Magpies — provided he can get over his injury problems.

Shelvey said: "This season has been torture."

"You are miserable at home and you go to games and it is horrible, just sitting there watching. You see them out of the training pitch and you are in the physio room sitting around and getting treatment."

"There is nothing worse for a footballer."

It doesn't sound like Shelvey is completely happy with the way his injury problems have been treated at the Toon.

He added: "We should have nipped the injury in the bud earlier."

"I had numerous trips to Barcelona to get injections to sort it out."

"It started in pre-season with injections to play games. I just play through the pain barrier."

But every time I was kicking a ball, it felt like I was being stabbed in the leg. The pain was unbearable."

"I still feel like I have got a lot to offer this club, and if I am at the top of my game then I can play at this club. I want to get back in the team."

"I need to end the season on a high. People remember the last three months of a season, not the start. I want to be on people's lips for good reasons. I want to finish strongly to get into the team, into the gaffer's plans again."

TALK OF TOON:
Jonjo Shelvey

TIP: Gordon Elliott

Champ to knockout Irish hopes at Chelsters

WINNING POST WITH BEN MORGAN

THE Irish will fancy their chances in the Ballymore Novices Hurdle today.

Battleoverdoyen, Sams Profile and City Island are just three in with a shout and all have claims. However, the English form is better and therefore CHAMP (NAP) and Brewin'upstorm head my list of interests in the race.

It's the former who edges the vote as he has looked a world beater so far this season overcoming difficult circumstances in both his races to date.

The Challow form is strong and his return at Ascot was something else after he pulled for his head all the way through. Nicky Henderson seems happy with him and if there is a star in the field it has to be this boy.

I think TOPOFTHEGAME has been waiting for this day for a long time. The tallest horse in training has been marking time and I expect him to realise all of his potential now he tackles a three mile chase around Cheltenham.

He has done well to achieve all that he has done over trips too short and tracks too tight, but that just goes to show how much class he possesses. He has his hands full today with Delta Work looking his main rival but I do expect Paul Nicholls horse to do the business.

Strong

The Coral Cup looks as competitive as ever and you may as well close your eyes and pick. I've tried to apply a bit of science to it and have come up with ERICK LE ROUGE who just keeps on improving.

Thankfully I have been on the right side of his curve, backing him the past twice. I think he is holding plenty back, he just needs a strong pace which he should get here. He looks well weighted and is clearly in form so rates a fair bet at 14/1.

I think CHIEF JUSTICE will backers a run for their money in the Fred Winter.

Gordon Elliott's horse has been mixing it with some good juveniles this year and seems to be at his best when coming off a fast pace. They will be going lickety-split here today and I expect his ultra cool jockey to play him late.

KLOPP SEES LIGT

By JOHN ANTHONY

DUTCH teen sensation Matthijs de Ligt is set to snub Barcelona and sign for Jurgen Klopp's Liverpool.

It looked as though the Ajax superstar defender would be heading to the Nou Camp this summer for around £80m.

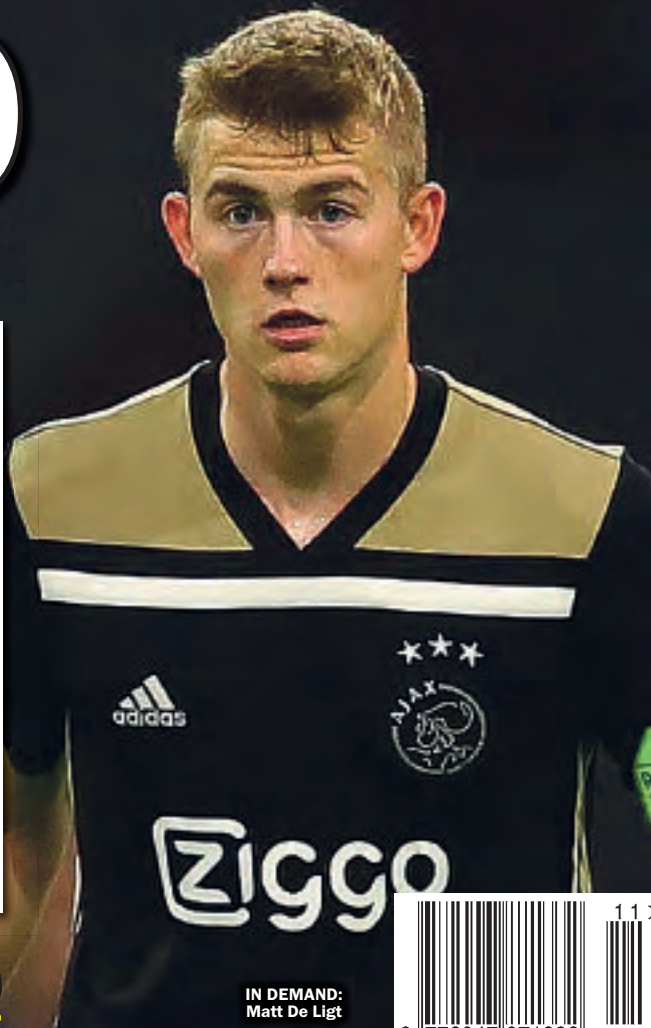

But the 19-year-old loves playing alongside Kop star Virgil Van Dijk for Holland and would jump at the chance to join him at Anfield.

That would give the Reds a formidable backline with Joe Gomez also developing into a world-class stopper.

He could move to right-back or form a classy back three alongside the two Dutchmen.

And the Reds could let either Dejan Lovren or Joel Matip go to Ajax to get the move done. The Croatian is turning 30 and knows his days at Anfield are numbered.

Van Dijk is likely to get the Liverpool captaincy next season which is another draw for De Ligt.
